訂正箇所	p. 67 ABSTRACT
誤	Unilateral spatial neglect (USN) is one of a neurological syndrome that often following brain dysfunction, has a significant impact on daily activities and return to independent living. This syndrome is characterized by a wide heterogeneity, and a role for multiple components has been suggested.
正	Unilateral spatial neglect (USN) is a common neurological syndrome following predominantly right hemisphere damage. While USN is classically regarded as a parietal syndrome, it has become evident as a widespread attention network disorder. We here aimed to summarize neural mechanisms underlying USN with a specific focus one the clinical evaluation for the symptom.
